

Eco Warriors, West Park Academy

THE Eco Warriors at West Park Academy are completely committed to embedding eco-friendly attitudes into school life.

They use free time during lunch breaks to discuss ways to improve the school's eco awareness. They also plan activities for the school and local community to take part in – such as litter picks and recycling – and pass on their messages to younger children in assemblies.

The messages also impact on the children at home, with many parents commenting on how energy efficient their children have become.

The children are a wonderful, eager bunch who are extremely keen to help the environment and never tire of their voluntary duties.
